ALL-NIGHT SERVICE FROM SWANSBORO TO GINTER PARK

Night Workers Preparing to Petition for Operation of Special Cross-Town Cars.

Residents of Ginter Park, Barton Heights, South Richmond and Swansboro are uniting in a plan to petition the Virginia Railway and Power Company to operate a single car on an all-night schedule running through from Swansboro to Ginter Park by way of Mayo Bridge. Up to this time the car company has operated "owl" cars only on the Main Street and Broad and Main lines, an east and west service provided by the franchise. The constantly increasing number of night workers as the city becomes more metropolitan has increased the demand for an all-night service to some of the more populous suburbs, and for a north and south line.

The street railway company is understood to occupy a waiting attitude. It has not taken the subject up formally, but it is said to have promised that the service will be provided if secured by the petition. The petitioners, however, believe that the car company has operated "owl" cars only on the Main Street and Broad and Main lines, an east and west service provided by the franchise. The constantly increasing number of night workers as the city becomes more metropolitan has increased the demand for an all-night service to some of the more populous suburbs, and for a north and south line.

JOINT DEBATE AT BON AIR ON COURTHOUSE MOVE

Citizens of Chesterfield County Are Divided as to Removal Proposition.

Voters of Middleton District, Chesterfield County, will meet to-night in the town hall at Bon Air to hear a joint debate on the removal of the county seat from Chesterfield Courthouse to Chester. The meeting was called by the Chesterfield Citizens' Association, and will be held under the auspices of the Bon Air Citizens' Association, a neutral organization. Invitations have been sent by mail to all qualified voters of the district, and a general invitation has been issued to the public.

The meeting will be presided over by A. R. Holmberg, Jr., president of the Chesterfield Citizens' Association, and the opening address will be made by a citizen of that town. Then will follow four ten-minute talks, two for and two against the movement. The remainder of the time will be spent in a discussion of the question, and both sides will be given an equal opportunity to state their cases.

It is planned to have the speeches take the form of a joint debate. The first and third will be made by members of the association, and the second and fourth by those opposed to the removal of the county seat.

The removal question is the liveliest topic of conversation in Chesterfield at the present time, and in favor of it do not anticipate any difficulty in getting the signatures of one-fourth of the qualified voters to a petition asking for an election to settle the controversy. Many voters will sign the petition whether believing in the movement or not, because the location of the county seat has been so long a subject, and it is a sore subject, and one that they believe should be disposed of at once.

Dickicks and Chester are solid for the movement, and the latter town has strong independent sentiment in favor of it. It is expected that the Chester Business Men's League will offer a site for the county buildings in event an election is ordered.

Petitions for the special election are ready to be circulated, but they will not be sent out for signatures until the voters have heard the proposition discussed from both standpoints. The association which is backing the removal question has as its officers: Walter E. Eanes, president; Howard James, vice-president; A. C. Buchanan, treasurer; and J. Stanley Gray, secretary.

COUNTERFEIT MONEY FOUND BY BOYS BURIED IN CANAL

Ordinary Paper Bag Lying in Mud Found to Contain 150 Illegal Half-Dollars.

Inclosed in an ordinary paper sack, 150 bright, shining counterfeit half-dollars were found yesterday morning buried in the mud at the bottom of the canal at the foot of Second Street. The queer find was made by a gang of small negro boys, who were wading around in the shallow depths after the water had been run off. How the coins came in the water is a mystery which is baffling the detective powers of the best of the local detectives.

The coins were apparently fresh from the mold, and from the appearance of the bag, which was not yet water-soaked, it is believed that they were cast in the canal after the water had been let down. The boys who made the find were looking for junk, but before they could realize what their discovery signified, other boys swooped down upon them and made off with the coins. Then the police were called in.

Officers G. L. Hooker and A. M. Smith were assigned to investigate what on its face appeared to be a world tale. Much to their surprise, a short investigation disclosed the fact that three grocerymen in that section of the city had taken in some of the money on Saturday. Further search brought to light twenty more of the counterfeit coins, which were found in the possession of a number of negro families.

The counterfeit coins were pronounced to be almost perfect. They have an excellent ring, but are a little under weight. Unless expert in handling money, one would not question them. The only noticeable defect is in the milling on one edge.

How or why the coins came to be in the canal is a puzzle. The local police were informed several days ago that a noted counterfeit was in Richmond. The party was a black man, who each of the three victims claim the coins were given to them by a colored woman, who made a small purchase in each instance. The police have an excellent description of this woman, who, it is believed, has frequently been in trouble here. A general alarm has been sent out for her.

BUSINESS MEN'S CLUB PLANS ANNUAL OUTING

Steamboat Party to Make Excursion to Virginia—Election of Directors Set for June 8.

Arrangements for the annual outing of the Business Men's Club on Saturday, June 6, have been completed, and already the members are on the out vive with expectancy. A party of the Old Dominion Steamship Company has been chartered to take the club down the river to Virginia, where a delectable dinner and a heady night on the club's own chief, will be ready upon arrival.

J. T. Palmatory is the chairman of the entertainment committee, and it is said that he has something up both in shoes, not in include a heady night and a pillow combat between two champions, and lesser things that tickle the fib of laughter. George Rogers has engaged with a friend in Texas to send up a badger, and the fight will be pulled off, provided there is no interference by the police.

Tickets will be sold to members to-day, after which places, not engaged, will be sold to the club members' friends.

Meeting of five directors of the Business Men's Club will be held on June 8, ten men, in accordance with a by-law of the club that twice as many men as are to be elected shall be nominated. The committee nominated are: President, Alvin M. Smith; Vice-President, John H. Baskin; C. H. Rudd; W. P. Ward; W. S. P. Mayo; A. G. Hoover; Leon Clark; and C. H. H. H. Under another by-law of the club any five members may make additional nominations, which shall be handed in to the president not later than seven days before the annual election. There are fifteen members of the board of directors of the club, five retiring each year. The following are the members of the board whose terms expire on May 21: Alvin M. Smith, T. M. Carrington, E. Randolph Williams, W. S. P. Mayo and Clyde H. Rateliff.

The election is conducted as in a general election, with regular polling places, booths and ballots.

HOWITZERS SPEND ONE NIGHT AT STRAWBERRY HILL

Battery Has Gun Practice and Drill in Range-Finding and Signaling.

The Richmond Howitzers returned home late yesterday afternoon from a practice march to Strawberry Hill, Henrico County, where the battery camped on Saturday night and went through mounted and other field maneuvers yesterday.

Under the command of Captain William M. Myers, the entire battery went on the hike. One platoon went mounted, under command of First Lieutenant Edward C. Rees, while the others marched dismounted. In all there were 106 men and four officers—Captain Myers, Captain F. K. T. Warwick, surgeon; Lieutenant Rees and Lieutenant George Myers.

The battery left Richmond on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and reached Strawberry Hill at 10 o'clock. The practice march was a long one, and the men carried the regular field outfit, consisting of shelter tents and blankets. Camp was quickly pitched and supper served.

Early yesterday morning the first platoon was given practice with the two guns and two caissons, which were taken along. The second platoon was given instruction in range finding, panoramic sights, and in semaphore signaling. During the rest period in the afternoon the battery was routed out of the tents by the fire call, and with the use of axes and other implements fought a field fire which threatened to destroy considerable property. The battery arrived home about 7 o'clock.

This was the first of a series of mounted hikes to be taken this year by the artillerymen. On the next trip the second platoon will get the advantage of the mounted instruction.

SEVERAL SITES SUGGESTED FOR NEW TRAINING SCHOOL

Presbyterian Building on Sixth Street Will Be Used Until New Plant Is Erected.

As soon as the necessary arrangements can be made and the equipment obtained, the missionary training school for laymen, provided for by the Southern Presbyterian General Assembly, now in session at Kansas City, will be established in the building owned by the Presbyterian Committee of Publication, 212-214 North Sixth Street. The upper two floors will be occupied by the classrooms and office. Later, when the necessary funds have been procured, it is hoped to establish the school in a permanent home at Sherwood Park, where enough land for the purpose is owned by Union Theological Seminary.

Steps have already been taken to secure a faculty, though nothing definite has yet been accomplished. Rev. W. R. Doherty, D. D., of St. Joseph, Mo., has been suggested for the presidency, and the name of a New York man has also been suggested. But the faculty appointments will be made by the board of trustees, all the members of which have not yet been announced.

The board of trustees will consist of eight men, two from the publication department, at Richmond; two from the home mission department, at Atlanta; two from the foreign mission department, at Nashville; and two from the education department, at Louisville. Rev. A. L. Phillips, D. D., and Rev. W. T. Jack, D. D., will represent the publication department of Richmond, and the others are yet to be announced.

The purposes of the school will be to train laymen and women in missionary work, both for the foreign and home fields. The course will consist of a study of the Bible and biblical history, of the approved methods of conveying the Gospel into unchristian fields, and of the conditions which the missionary must meet and overcome in his work of spreading the Gospel in foreign lands. The course may occupy a year or more.

CITY MAY TAKE OVER PINE CAMP

Administrative Board Lays Plans for Bettering Conditions of Poor.

MAY ABANDON OLD CITY HOME

City Farm and Provision for Colored Consumptives Will Render Old Plant Unnecessary.

The Tuberculosis Camp Society, which owns and operates the Camp, has submitted to the Administrative Board a proposition, under which it offers to turn over to the city, without cost, its tuberculosis sanatorium in the northern suburbs, on condition that the city construct two additional pavilions to provide accommodations for forty patients.

An annual appropriation of $8,000 is now made by the city towards the support of Pine Camp. The plant embraces 175 acres of pine woods, two open-air pavilions, an administrative building, and several small outhouses. The value of the property is estimated to be $25,000. Accommodations are at present provided for about thirty patients.

Figures prepared by John Hirschberg, of the Administrative Board, show that as at present operated Pine Camp spends about $12.50 a day per patient. The annual expenses of the plant are about $11,000, which the city of Richmond contributes $8,000. Private donations make up the balance.

The Administrative Board, it is understood, regards with favor the plan to accept the property from the Tuberculosis Camp Society, and to operate the sanatorium as part of the city's hospital system. It is pointed out as an anomalous condition that the city contributes almost three-fourths of the maintenance expense of Pine Camp, which has no voice in its administration.

PLANS TO ACQUIRE CITY FARM FOR INDIGENT NOW AT CITY HOME.

The acceptance of the Tuberculosis Camp Society's offer is being postponed pending the outcome of other far-reaching eleemosynary plants that are now under consideration. The project which is nearest concerned is the founding of a city farm to take care of the indigent negroes who are crowded into the City Home. An appropriation of $25,000 for the purchase of such a farm was made in the last budget.

While Mr. Robert Whitely, Jr., of the farm has been available since early this year, differences of opinion have arisen as to the proper body to expend it. The appropriation was asked for by the Administrative Board, which recommended a resolution authorizing that body to direct the expenditure. In making up the budget the Finance Committee recommended that the proper body to manage the appropriation be the Public Utilities Committee, which is the proper body to manage the appropriation.

The Administrative Board has appointed a committee of two—John Hirschberg and Robert Whitely, Jr.—to take up the question of authority with the City Attorney. It was the intention of the committee to confer with the City Attorney on Saturday, but it was found impossible to arrange a meeting. Chairman Whitely said yesterday that the board committee would take the matter to the City Attorney to-day.

MORE THAN A SCORE OF FARMS HAVE BEEN OFFERED TO CITY.

Mr. Pollard holds the view that it is the proper body to direct the expenditure of the appropriation, and a ruling to this effect appears probable, the board will pursue its plan to acquire the farm. The purchase of a suitable farm. According to Mr. Hirschberg, more than a score of available farms have been offered to the city, and they have well suited to the city's purpose.

It is the purpose of the board as soon as the farm is established to remove to it all the indigent negroes now housed in the City Home. This would leave at the home only a small colony of colored tuberculosis patients. The city has at present no special provision for colored consumptives, and the board is anxious to provide accommodations for the indigent of both races to be cared for at the Virginia Hospital, and the indigent well will be housed at the city farm. Large overhead expenses will make prohibitory the maintenance of the City Home plant as a hospital for colored consumptives—the only class of patients that will remain unprovided for.

To take care of this situation, the board proposes to take over the control of the City Home, and to devote a portion of the 175-acre tract to the colored consumptives. The present plan is to begin by constructing two pavilions large enough to accommodate those in the home about forty patients. These are to be built at some distance from the white building, and the transfer of the poor to the city farm, leave the City Home vacant. Its disposition would then be made by the board, and the city, since it would be poor economy to permit a valuable property of this kind to remain idle. Its distant location would forbid its utilization for most municipal purposes. The property would in all probability be sold.

PULPIT IN ATTITUDE OF JUDGE TOWARD JURY

Can Interpret the Law Without Dictating Individual Action, Says Mr. Bowie.

HE ARGUES FOR PROHIBITION

Rector of St. Paul's Preaches First of Series on "Christian Conscience and the Prohibition Referendum."

Taking the position that the attitude of the pulpit towards the people, in regard to the prohibition referendum and other public questions, is as the attitude of a judge towards the jury in its verdict, the Rev. W. Russell Bowie, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, last night said that the liquor question was not one of economics or of business, but one that related solely to the moral and spiritual welfare of the people as a whole.

"Many differ as to the attitude of the church," he said, "as to whether the church ought to give its voice in protest against the liquor traffic. There are enemies who would stop the church from raising its protest against the liquor business, and there are friends who honestly think it unwise that the church should say anything of this kind. The reason of the latter is perfectly right and very reasonable. For history shows that the Church of Rome was unfortunate in linking brandy and strong drink with the church, and that the church in turn ally itself with the subject and permit of pulpit discussion. The church occupies a position towards the people as a judge does towards a jury. The judge is the interpreter of the law. He does not attempt to influence or direct a verdict, but he does interpret the law for the jury. In the same attitude of the church towards this problem, and it is the business and necessity of the pulpit to try to interpret God's law in regard to the problem now pressing upon us."

LIQUOR FIGHT AN INDICATION OF GENERAL FORWARD MOVEMENT.

"This problem is simply a phase of a general forward movement, and the action of the government in ruling liquor out of the navy is but another indication of that forward movement," Mr. Bowie then went on to show that though intemperate may be as ancient as history itself, distilled spirits, as they are manufactured into whiskey, brandy and other forms of liquor in use to-day, are of comparatively recent origin. Whiskey having first come into use 700 or 800 years ago. He quoted a speech made by Lord Lansdowne in Parliament in 1743, when Lord Lansdowne called attention to the misery and wretchedness that had been introduced among the people by the widespread use of distilled intoxicants. Mr. Bowie said that in almost no instance was alcohol a food, and that the body could assimilate in twenty-four hours only one and a half ounces of alcohol without suffering deteriorating effect. He also quoted amply from a report of Dr. Delandette, of the Western States, that in the United States the next generation would see the possible annihilation of insane asylums.

"It is a scientific fact," said Mr. Bowie, "that 40 or 50 per cent of the crimes of violence are due to the use of alcohol, and that one of the worst results of its use is cruelty and violence toward children. Does it not show, then, that it is needed to uphold the idea that the body is the temple of God?"

Mr. Bowie said that there were few moderate drinkers, and few moderate drinkers who were not at times immoderate, and he pointed to the deleterious effect of liquor on politics. He read from a pamphlet, an advertisement of certain Kentucky distillers, offering to sell lists of names of drinking people to any institution desiring them. The advertisement stated that the distillers were going out of business, and would, therefore, sell the lists of names at so much a name.

"But the liquor men are not all bad men," said Mr. Bowie. "Their instincts are right, but they are in the wrong business. It is not a fight on the individual, nor against those in the liquor traffic, but a fight against the thing, the traffic itself. And the conscience of civilization says that liquor has got to go."

Mr. Bowie announced that he would preach three sermons on the general topic, "Christian Conscience and the Prohibition Referendum." The sermon last night was the first of the three, and was on "The Standard of Decision," based on St. Mark, viii, 36: "In what shall I profit a man if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul?"

DRAMA OF "CREATION" DRAWS CAPACITY HOUSE

Many Turned Away From Academy at Initial Exhibition of Bible Pictures.

PHONOGRAPH DELIVERS LECTURE

Spectacle by International Bible Students' Association Will Continue Until June 21.

Several hundred persons were denied admission yesterday afternoon to the Academy of Music at the initial performance of the International Bible Students' Association's photo-drama of "Creation." The first exhibition of these remarkable pictures was witnessed by an audience which packed the house to its utmost seating capacity.

These pictures are being shown throughout the country, without charge, and with no appeal whatever for funds. The association is supported by private and voluntary contributions.

It is claimed that from the time of the creation of the world down to the day of the crucifixion and the following resurrection, science, history and biblical teachings are harmonized in the drama of "Creation," which is regarded as the greatest achievement of the whole of the films.

The American Bible Students' Association is a nonsectarian, evangelical society, founded by Pastor Russell, of Brooklyn. At the last annual convention the association endorsed the "movie" as a preferred method for performing Bible history and philosophy, and authorized free exhibitions of the "Creation" in all the larger cities.

RICHMOND CLASS WILL BE IN CHARGE.

The members of the Richmond class of the association, during the exhibition here, will be in charge of each of the nine days of the exhibition, act as ushers and furnish information to persons interested.

Mechanical trouble yesterday afternoon was due to the nonarrival of a new machine, and a smaller instrument had to be used to display the reels. However, it was said, this difficulty will be remedied to-day.

Under the Bible scenes crowded out of the mind of the average intellect, in this busy day were thrown on the screen yesterday, and with the powerful aid of motion pictures and a well-arranged orchestra, the history of the world, from the beginning of time to the present, was presented in a most impressive manner. The pictures, the creation of vegetable and animal kingdoms and twenty centuries of human history were shown in a manner that was most impressive upon all who viewed the spectacle.

Part one of the pictures will be shown this afternoon and to-night and tomorrow afternoon and night. Part two will follow on the afternoon of Wednesday. The performances, which will take place each day at 3 and 8 o'clock, will continue until June 21.

SERMON IS DELIVERED TO GRADUATING NURSES

Memorial Hospital Class Hears Dr. MacLachlan at Seventh Street Church.

"HER WORK CHRISTIAN SERVICE"

Commencement Exercises Thursday. Graduates of Virginia Will Hold Dinners To-Morrow Night.

Rev. H. D. C. MacLachlan, D. D., pastor of the Seventh Street Christian Church, at the service last night, delivered the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating nurses of the Memorial Hospital Training School. He took as his subject "The Ministry of the Sick Nurse."

In his opening remarks Dr. MacLachlan said that the gradual development of public and private hospitals had to a certain extent taken away a part of the function of the old church, where ill persons sought cures and comforts. "The nurse to-day," he said, "must be an expert, and her labor makes her worthy of divine approval. It is a Christian service. You are constantly hearing of women entering men's fields—but nursing—that is wholly the work of women. A man-nurse is exactly the same as a fish out of water. Your ministry is part of scientific advancement, and you are true daughters of the age. The Confederate States, at the opening of the war, was the poorest country in the civilized world, but it had men. It had Lees, Jacksons and Longstreets, and it had the women. For four long years those men fought and held at bay a well-fed, well-paid and well-organized army, but the hardship were lightened by the ministry of their women through that struggle.

"It is within the power of the nurse to provide the oil of human helpfulness and pour it into the open sore of the world."

The commencement exercises of the Memorial Hospital Training School for Nurses will take place to-morrow night in the High School auditorium. Mayor Campbell will preside, while the address to the graduates will be made by Dr. S. C. Mitchell, president of the Medical College of Virginia, who has taken a deep interest in the affairs of the hospital.

Diplomas will be awarded to the graduates by Dr. George Ben Johnston, and the exercises will be held at 8:30 o'clock. A reception at the Nurses' Home, 1223 East Broad Street, will follow immediately after the exercises.

On Saturday afternoon the graduates were the guests of Miss S. E. Cummings and her assistants, at a box party at the Grayce Scott Bijou Theatre and afterward at a dinner at the Jefferson Hotel.

WILL FURNISH QUARTERS

First Regiment Association to Have Custody of Remains of Pickett's Corps.

Monthly meeting of the First Regiment Association will be held at 8 o'clock to-night at the headquarters of the association, 1223 East Broad Street, when the matter of furnishing quarters for the remains of Pickett's Corps of Confederate Veterans will be discussed. The association is also planning to hold a picnic at the First Battalion headquarters to-morrow.

The members of the Richmond Grays will arrive to-day, and will be entertained to a dinner at the hotel. The uniform of the Richmond Grays is of Confederate gray, with black and white trimmings.

To-morrow night there will be held a competitive drill for the best six men in the battalion. Interest in the drill has been aroused to a high pitch, and every man will put his best foot forward to win one of the medals, which are to be awarded on Friday night. Captains Cutching and Pullen of the Richmond Light Infantry Blues Battalion, have been selected to act as the judges.

POST-OFFICE CLERKS TO HOLD ANNUAL CONVENTION

Virginia Branch to Meet Here Saturday to Discuss Service Penalties.

The annual convention of the Virginia branch of the National Post-Office Clerks' Association will be held here on Saturday morning. The organization will hold one session, the meeting being held in the civil service examination room, in the Federal Building.

It is expected that at least fifty delegates from all over Virginia will be on hand. Although the convention will last only one day, a number of very important questions will come up for consideration. Among them will be the question of pension for postal employees.

There are now three bills pending in Congress touching on pensions. One provides for the retirement of employees with 10 per cent of the regular salary after thirty years' service, with 45 per cent after twenty-five years' service, or with 40 per cent after twenty years' service. There is strong objection in many quarters of the country to government pensions, and another plan has been suggested, involving the deduction of a small amount from each clerk every month, which would be held in a fund, and if unable to pass be automatically dropped from the rolls.

The local branch of the association has a membership of about sixty persons, all employed at the Richmond post-office. W. Fenton McElin is president.
